The Day of Pentecost

Sunday May 24th, 2020

Incumbent – The Reverend Douglas Michael

Honourary Assistant – The Reverend Sharon Johnstone

Reading for the day

Acts 2:1-21 - When the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place. And suddenly from heaven there came a sound like the rush of a violent wind, and it filled the entire house where they were sitting. Divided tongues, as of fire, appeared among them, and a tongue rested on each of them. All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other languages, as the Spirit gave them ability. Now there were devout Jews from every nation under heaven living in Jerusalem. And at this sound the crowd gathered and was bewildered, because each one heard them speaking in the native language of each. Amazed and astonished, they asked, "Are not all these who are speaking Galileans? And how is it that we hear, each of us, in our own native language? Parthians, Medes, Elamites, and residents of Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya belonging to Cyrene, and visitors from Rome, both Jews and proselytes, Cretans and Arabs - in our own languages we hear them speaking about God's deeds of power." All were amazed and perplexed, saying to one another, "What does this mean?" But others sneered and said, "They are filled with new wine." But Peter, standing with the eleven, raised his voice and addressed them, "Men of Judea and all who live in Jerusalem, let this be known to you, and listen to what I say. Indeed, these are not drunk, as you suppose, for it is only nine o'clock in the morning. No, this is what was spoken through the prophet Joel: 'In the last days it will be, God declares, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams. Even upon my slaves, both men and women, in those days I will pour out my Spirit; and they shall prophesy. And I will show portents in the heaven above and signs on the earth below, blood, and fire, and smoky mist. The sun shall be turned to darkness and the moon to blood, before the coming of the Lord's great and glorious day. Then everyone who calls on the name of the Lord shall be saved.'"

Psalm 104:25-35, 37

Refrain

Send forth your Spirit, O Lord, and renew the face of the earth.

O Lord, how manifold are your works! in wisdom you have made them all; the earth is full of your creatures. Yonder is the great and wide sea with its living things too many to number, creatures both small and great. There move the ships, and there is that Leviathan, which you have made for the sport of it. All of them look to you to give them their food in due season. You give it to them; they gather it; you open your hand, and they are filled with good things. You hide your face, and they are terrified; you take away their breath, and they die and return to their dust. You send forth your Spirit, and they are created; and so you renew the face of the earth. May the glory of the Lord endure for ever; may the Lord rejoice in all his works. He looks at the earth and it trembles; he touches the mountains and they smoke. I will sing to the Lord as long as I live; I will praise my God while I have my being. May these words of mine please him; I will rejoice in the Lord. Bless the Lord, O my soul. Hallelujah! R

Online gatherings have started. If you would like to be part of a co-ordinated parish online social, please email allsaintschurch@bmts.com or phone 705-445-3841 Nancy at the church office with your email address. We'll be using Zoom, which is free and relatively easy.

The power of technology is amazing and Keiko is conducting music rehearsals on-line. Now she would like to invite more people to join Hymn Singing Wednesday mornings at 11am. To join this group you would need an email address and an account with Zoom (free of cost)... for more information please contact Keiko at keikokuepfer@gmail.com

From the Green Team

“On this mountain the Lord of hosts will make for all peoples a feast of rich food, a feast of well natured wines, of rich food filled with marrow, of well-matured wines strained clear”. (Isaiah 25:6)

“You are what you eat”, as the saying goes. And how does that relate to meat from industrially-raised livestock? If slaughterhouses had glass walls, more people would become vegetarians. But there are still family farms in Canada where the animals are well treated, as well as farms certified “organic” where the animal’ living conditions and the environmental impacts are evaluated. The livestock is fed on pesticide-free organic grain, is raised naturally, without hormones and antibiotics, and has more freedom. You’ll notice that the pieces don’t melt away during cooking and that the meat is more flavourful.

“But organic meat is so expensive,” you say? You’re right, unless you buy directly from the producer. To make the transition easier, buy organic meat once a week. To save a little more, replace the meat at one with legumes. Put the money you save toward buying organic meat.
